

Super Bowl Strawberries

If you're planning a Super Bowl party and want a sweet alternative to the typical cookie and cupcake snacks, this recipe for dipped strawberries is for you! I'd never cooked with candy melts before seeing this recipe, but I'm really glad I found it.

The melts can be found at craft stores like Michael's and Hobby Lobby, as well as some large supermarkets (it's best to call ahead and make sure). I prefer the Mercken's brand, although the Wilton brand is adequate for this recipe.

Ingredients

- 1 bag dark cocoa/chocolate candy melts
- 1 bag white candy melts
- 12 strawberries (the amount can vary based on the size of the party)

Preparation process

Melt the cocoa candy melts in the microwave at 50% heat for 1 minute. Stir and continue cooking, a few seconds at a time, until the sauce is smooth.

Dip the strawberries (the strawberries should be room temperature) in the cocoa candy sauce, leaving a bit of red and the green stem undipped. Place on wax paper and set in the refrigerator until the sauce is hardened.

Once the sauce is hard, in a separate bowl, cook the white candy melts at the same temperature and technique as the cocoa candy melts.

Draw football stitching on the chocolate coated strawberries with the white sauce and serve.

Bonus Items

If you want to watch the video again. Click here.

If you can't find candy melts in your area, these Mercken's melts can be purchased here.